DETAILED ACTION

Applicant's arguments filed on 11/12/04 and 4/25/05 have been considered. The examiner does not agree with applicant arguments, however because of the examiner's time constraint, the examiner has decided to vacate the requirement mailed on 10/7/04 and adopt applicant's proposed restriction requirement which was presented in the letter filed on 11/12/04. It is noted that the proposed restriction requirement by applicant is not official, thus, in order to make the an official restriction and to make the record clear and avoid any confusion of to which claims are included in each group, an official restriction requirement follow. As mention above, this requirement is as proposed by applicant. Again, the examiner regrets any inconvenience to applicant, however, this is necessary to avoid any confusions in the future.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-43, 92-108, 75-91, 109-126, 127-143, 144-159, 160-174, 175-184, drawn to a fixation device, classified in class 606, subclass 73.
- II. Claims 44-60 and 186, drawn to a fixation device, classified in class 606, subclass 104.
- III. Claims 61-74, 187-189, and 190 drawn to a fixation device, classified in class 606, subclass 86.
- IV. Claims 185, drawn to a mehtod, classified in class 606, subclass 53.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions II and I are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the combination does not need the connecting member having internal sidewalls defining a female tapered first through passage. The subcombination has separate utility such as a fixation device.

Inventions III and I are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the combination does not need the fastening member having a male-tapered external portion. The subcombination has separate utility such as a fixation device.

Inventions IV and I are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the process as claimed can be practiced with a different apparatus.

Inventions III and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the combination does not need a fastening member having a male-tapered external portion. The subcombination has separate utility such as a fixation device.

Inventions IV and II are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the process as claimed can be practice with a different apparatus.

Inventions IV and III are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the process as claimed can be practice with a different apparatus.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for the other groups, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
